

Auto-Sleepers are renowned for their luxury motorhomes within the leisure industry but racers and visitors to racing circuits up and down the Country are probably less likely to be familiar with their craftsmanship...well that is until now!

Auto-Sleepers was established in 1961 and has been at the forefront of the motorhome industry with many award winning vans over the years, including the first ever rising roof on a campervan. There isn't much we don't know about building motorhomes and we're proud of it.

The expertise we have gained over the last 52 years means we have the technical knowledge and ability to custom design vehicles to bespoke requirements, as well as giving advice and guidance on potential design plans before undertaking a bespoke project.

Racing enthusiast Neil Perkins had been on the lookout for some time for the ideal vehicle to transport his beloved motor cars to and from race meetings whilst offering space to sleep and entertain whilst on the move. Having been unsuccessful in his quest Neil decided to look into having a custom made vehicle manufactured instead, this way giving him everything he required.

Impressed with the design and quality build of the Auto-Sleeper motorhome range Neil decided to contact Auto-Sleepers about his plans and began talks about making his dream vehicle a reality. Meeting with senior management and R&D expert Brian Cross, Neil Perkins was involved throughout the process of the project ensuring that this really was a bespoke vehicle.

Auto-Sleepers craftsmen were truly put to the test with this project as they designed and created their biggest vehicle yet. Based on the Peugeot tag axle chassis this was to be the very first 6 wheeled vehicle produced at the Cotswold based factory.

With an array of classic racing cars including a 1936 Maserati 6CM, a BMW Frazer Nash 328, a 1957 Lotus 2, a 1957 RGS, a BMW 700 and a TVR 1800s, Neil needed a vehicle which would comfortably transport any of his cars when attending race meetings.

With a clear brief and design outlined with Neil, the Auto-Sleepers team began work on this their latest project, and like every motorhome and caravan built at the factory Neil's vehicle was completely built by hand.

The end result was a truly spectacular piece of art, one that will leave Neil the envy of the race track. With the project complete there was only one thing left to do, choosing a name and nothing was more fitting than 'Silverstone'.

Thrilled with the final results Neil Perkins commented 'Auto-Sleepers has produced a truly amazing vehicle which will allow me and my team more time at the race track enjoying the sport that we love. The team at Auto-Sleepers have completely understood my requirements and custom built a luxury vehicle above and beyond all my expectations.'

Dave Williams, Sales Director for Auto-Sleeper commented, "Auto-Sleeper are renowned for building flagship motorhomes with iconic pedigree but the Silverstone is totally unique in concept. Purpose built and bespoke designed from the floor up to meet Neil's specific requirements, no other mainstream manufacturer could undertake such a project, but our expertise gained over 52 years of designing award winning luxury motorhomes for the discerning owner stood in good stead. The Silverstone epitomises the essence of Auto-Sleeper heritage and British manufacturing at its best"
